TOGETHER, WHEREVER
James 4:13-17 & Psalm 90:10

The Family
Table

INTRODUCTION

Prioritizing quality time says to friends and family, “Our family is important.” Just being together in a non-rushed, tech-free setting communicates we love one another enough to block the world out for a little bit and re-center our family.

If life is short and trouble follows us everywhere, should we bury our heads in the sand and do nothing? Since life is fleeting and burdensome, should we not find ways to enjoy the time we do have? Wherever you journey in life, take time to enjoy the good gifts of food God has given you. Whether at home, at a restaurant or on a trip, thank the Lord for giving you food to enjoy during the years you have upon this earth

DISCUSSION STARTER

1. If you could only eat at one restaurant the rest of your life, which would it be?
2. Next time you travel to a big city, what country's food do you want to try?

EVALUATE IT

1. Read James 4:13-17. What four areas of life are discussed in 4:13? What is wrong with this type of planning?
2. Read Psalm 90:10. Does this verse inspire and challenge you or does it scare you and make you nervous? Explain your answer.
3. Read Psalm 90:12. What does it mean to “number our days aright?”

MAKE IT PERSONAL

1. Both James and Moses mention the frailty and brevity of life in conjunction with how we live. From these verses, what perspective does God want us to have regarding how we conduct our lives?
2. What can you do to add the maximum value to the time you have in this life?

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Solomon concluded Ecclesiastes with these words:

Now all has been heard; here is the conclusion of the matter: Fear God and keep His commandments, for this is the duty of all mankind.

- Ecclesiastes 12:13
