FOREVER YOURS
1 Corinthians 6:18-20
Stuart Jones - June 2, 2019

INTRODUCTION

Paul, in Galatians 6:7 NIV, tells us we reap what we sow. He also tells us in 1 Corinthians 6:18, to "Flee from sexual immorality." Immorality can lead to broken marriages and a loss of self-worth and respect. It can lead to harm done to someone you love but it can also lead to harm done to yourself.

To avoid immorality, establish guardrails. Remove questionable books and DVDs from your home. Choose not to watch certain TV shows and movies. Proverbs 4:23 NIV, tells us "Above all else, guard your heart, for everything you do flows from it."

DISCUSSION STARTER

1. In what ways, good or bad, did your friends influence you growing up?

2. Who do you know whose life would have been better if he or she had had relational guardrails?

EVALUATE IT

1. Read 1 Corinthians 6:18–20. What do you think it looks like to honor God with our bodies? How might putting that into practice affect your relationships with other people?

2. During the message, Stuart called sexual sin "uniquely damaging" because we can never fully escape the damage it does. Do you agree that it can make you a liar and secret–keeper for life? Why or why not?

3. Andy Stanley says sin is always defined by hurting, stealing from or dishonoring another person. How is this true?

4. What are the warning signs we're headed toward sexual temptation? What are some wise ways to flee sexual immorality?

MAKE IT PERSONAL

1. Is it difficult for you to believe you are a sacred image bearer of God? Why or why not? If you were to embrace that truth, how would it influence the decisions you make going forward?

2. Do you need to begin to flee from instead of flirt with sexual immorality? What are some specific guardrails you need to establish? Share them with your group if you're comfortable doing so. What can your group do to support you?
